Subject: Microsoft settlement against

Since the settlement you have made with Microsoft I have learned that big business is bigger than big government.

No ware in your settlement do I see you addressing the things that the average user of the software wanted. If I select non Microsoft software I do not want to be asked if that is what I want more than once and you have left that option open to them. You are not making them unbundle there software and I believe that was the start of the whole thing. All I can see is that this is a sellout to Microsoft and is only good for Microsoft.
